

Illinois Agri-Women Coffee Chats – 2023
Register Here!

Karen Corrigan

Karen Corrigan is an independent agronomist and co-owner of McGillicuddy Corrigan Agronomics, an agronomic consultation to farmers in the upper Midwest. She is a Certified Crop Advisor and holds a masters degree in agronomy-weed science from the University of Wisconsin-Madison.

Karen also serves as an adjunct instructor at Carl Sandburg College and Heartland Community College teaching classes on agronomy, soils, horticulture, and pesticide application.

Karen and her friends Kelsey Litchfield and Jen Campbell record a monthly podcast called Girls Talk Ag. She is a mom of two elementary aged girls and two doodles.