Rosemary Galdamez

Soil and Water Outcomes Fund

Rosemary Galdamez is the Underserved Farmer Engagement Coordinator for the Soil and Water Outcomes Fund. In this role, Rosemary works to serve the diverse farming community, ensuring underserved farmer populations have equal access to valuable information and support.

Rosemary earned her bachelor's degree in environmental science and a minor in women's and gender studies from Iowa State University. She gained experience in agriculture during her studies by working in two water quality research labs. Rosemary is from Des Moines, IA and is fluent in Spanish.
